

Pliant Therapeutics Enters into $100 million Loan Facility Agreement with Oxford Finance to Support Ongoing Development of PLN-74809

May 5, 2022

Up to $100 million of non-dilutive capital from Oxford Finance LLC

Extends expected cash runway to mid-2024

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., May 05, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Pliant Therapeutics, Inc. (Nasdaq: PLRX), a clinical stage biotechnology company focused on discovering and developing novel therapeutics for the treatment of fibrosis, today announced it has entered into a loan facility agreement with Oxford Finance LLC for up to \$100 million of non-dilutive financing. This facility will support the continued clinical development of PLN-74809, an oral, small molecule, dual selective inhibitor of  $\alpha_v\beta_6$  and  $\alpha_v\beta_1$  integrins, in the lead indications of idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis (IPF) and primary sclerosing cholangitis (PSC).

"This non-dilutive facility strengthens our financial position, balances our near-term capital requirements and supports the advancement of our pipeline through multiple near-term clinical milestones," said Keith Cummings, M.D., MBA, Chief Financial Officer of Pliant Therapeutics, Inc. "With our cash runway now extended to mid-2024, we are focused on delivering the highly anticipated data readouts from our Phase 2a INTEGRIS-IPF and INTEGRIS-PSC trials."

Under the terms of the loan agreement, Pliant drew $10 million of an initial $25 million tranche at closing, with the remaining $15 million available through the end of the year. The Company has access to an additional $75 million over three tranches, $50 million of which is based on pre-determined milestones, and $25 million at Oxford's discretion. The loan carries an interest-only period of 48 months (extendable to 60 months) and total term of 60 months (extendable to 72 months). Interest is based on a floating rate which is subject to both a floor and a cap. There are no warrants or financial covenants in the agreement.

As of December 31, 2021, the Company had cash, cash equivalents, and short-term investments of $200.6 million. With the initial draw of $10.0 million at closing, the Company had pro-forma cash, cash equivalents, and short-term investments as of December 31, 2021 of $210.6 million. With this facility in place, Pliant expects to be able to fund operations to mid-2024.

About Pliant Therapeutics, Inc.

Pliant Therapeutics is a clinical stage biopharmaceutical company focused on discovering and developing novel therapies for the treatment of fibrosis. Pliant's lead product candidate, PLN-74809, is an oral small molecule dual selective inhibitor of  $\alpha_v\beta_6$  and  $\alpha_v\beta_1$  integrins that is in development in the lead indications for the treatment of idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis, or IPF, and primary sclerosing cholangitis, or PSC. PLN-74809 has received Orphan Drug designation from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for both IPF and PSC. Pliant is currently conducting Phase 2a trials of PLN-74809 in the lead indications of IPF and PSC. Pliant has also developed PLN-1474, a small molecule selective inhibitor of  $\alpha_v\beta_1$  for the treatment of nonalcoholic steatohepatitis, or NASH with liver fibrosis, which Pliant has transferred to Novartis pursuant to our development partnership. In addition to clinical stage programs, Pliant currently has two preclinical programs targeting oncology and muscular dystrophies.
